LOT 1: SecuriMeter - Security public opinion survey in the Western Balkans - 2024, data collection and data processing

Duration: April - 10 June 2024

I BACKGROUND

Purpose

The purpose of the consultancy is to collect data to help determine the public attitudes in the Western Balkans with regard to the security situation through the implementation of a field survey in Albania, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Kosovo*, Montenegro, North Macedonia and Serbia.

For this purpose, a consultancy or a consulting consortium (hereinafter: the Consultant) will be engaged to support the development and execution of data collection phase and data processing of the survey on behalf of the Regional Cooperation Council (RCC).

Background Information

Since 2021, RCC has been engaged in measuring the attitudes, experiences and perceptions of the general public in the Western Balkans concerning the security situation. Continuation of the Public Opinion Survey on security issues remains one of the key priorities, which would help understand citizens' perceptions along the lines of the main security challenges, and at the same time help practitioners and governments to improve their course of action.

The previous three editions of SecuriMeter, issued respectively in 2021, 2022, and 2023, have been received with great interest. They are complementary to the data collected by the RCC's Balkan Barometer, as well as the data collected by public administrations and regional and international partners. According to numerous feedback, citation, and the overall usage of data sets, both governments and the NGO sector have shown a great need for such a project.

The 2024 iteration seeks to deepen the understanding of both traditional and non-traditional security challenges, emphasizing human security and socioeconomic factors that influence perceptions of safety and security.

The fourth edition will keep the same methodology and will cover a similar range of topics.

However, the questionnaire will be updated in order to fully address the current traditional and non-traditional security related challenges and to reflect those challenges through a carefully crafted set of indicators.

Expected results:

- Measuring public trends that will help shaping up a coherent regional and national action.
- Successful administration of the survey across all Western Balkan economies, achieving a minimum sample size of 1,000 respondents per economy to ensure national representativeness. This includes a diverse cross-section of respondents by age, gender, income, education, employment status, and urban-rural distribution, ensuring a broad spectrum of security perceptions are captured.

* This designation is without prejudice to positions on status, and is in line with UNSCR 1244/1999 and the ICJ Opinion on the Kosovo declaration of independence.

- Implementation of strict quality control measures throughout the data collection process, including interviewer training, back-checks, and monitoring, to ensure data integrity and minimise errors.
- Preparation of the dataset in a format that is ready for analysis, including codebooks and methodology documentation.
- Efficient and accurate data processing to convert raw survey data into analysable formats, using state-of-the-art software tools (STATA and SPSS) to prepare the dataset for advanced analytical techniques in LOT 2.
- Collaboration with RCC Secretariat to develop a set of indicators based on the survey.
- Assisting the RCC Secretariat with sampling and addressing other methodological challenges.

II DESCRIPTION OF RESPONSIBILITIES

Objectives and Scope of the Assignment

Ensure the questionnaire's readiness and appropriateness for capturing nuanced insights into security perceptions and conduct a comprehensive and nuanced data collection that captures public perceptions on a spectrum of security issues in the Western Balkans.

RCC Secretariat has prepared the first draft of the questionnaire for the fourth edition. The draft questionnaire includes the following chapters:

- General security perceptions (6 questions)
- Personal security perceptions (5 questions)
- Categories of security-related problems in economy (7 questions)
- Migration (3 questions)
- Emigration intentions, human security and resilience (10 questions)
- Personal trust and trust in institutions (6 questions)
- Corruption (3 questions)
- Emerging security threats (7 questions)
- Demographic control groups (11 questions)

General

The implementation of SecuriMeter Survey will involve both face-to-face and telephone interviews (CATI). The specific application of these methods for each survey question will be decided after completing the sampling process and finalising the survey methodology.

In the previous three iterations of SecuriMeter Survey, the sample size for each economy consistently comprised at least 1,000 respondents, culminating in a regional total of at least 6,000 participants. For the current iteration, while the overall target of at least 6,000 respondents across the region remains unchanged, adjustments to the sample size within each economy may be made in accordance with best academic practices to enhance the survey's efficacy and accuracy.

Samples should be probability-based and nationally representative of the resident population aged 18 and above. The coverage area should include the entire economy including rural areas and the sampling frame should represent the entire population of the 18+ age group. Data weighting should be used to ensure a nationally representative sample for each economy. In addition to taking into account disproportional sampling across regions, data should be weighted by gender, age, education, profession, minority status or ethnical background, economic activity and socio-economic status, etc.

Draft questionnaire for SecuriMeter Survey will be subject to potential amendments to reflect recent security-related developments in the regional environment. In general, the questionnaire should include nearly 60 questions (demographic control groups included), where RCC reserves the right to amend the number of questions as it sees fit in the regional context in 2024. The questionnaire is developed in English and should be translated into local languages using the system of back translation to minimise potential misunderstandings. If necessary, the kick-off meeting will be held between the RCC, data collection team, and the team engaged for data analysis to finalise the list of questions. The meeting will be held upon signature of the contracts.

Interviewers should have adequate experience in survey research studies and should be provided with training before the start of data collection. A training manual should be produced to assist the work in the field and ensure consistency. Quality control back-checks should be carried out and documented covering at least 20% of respondents.

All deliverables will be produced in English, thus an excellent command of the language is critical.

Specific Tasks

Under this Component, it is envisioned that the Consultant shall carry out the following tasks:

Conduct preparatory work

- Familiarise itself with the RCC, previous three SecuriMeter editions, SEE2030 Strategy, SWP 2023-2025, and CRM 2021-2024;
- Participate in a kick-off meeting and ongoing consultation with the RCC Secretariat;
- Agree with the RCC Secretariat on any outstanding issues and/or possible modifications to the scope of work;
- Finalise/update the methodology.

Survey Design and Sample Preparation

- Obtain input from the RCC Secretariat and prepare final questionnaire in English for approval;

- Prepare translation of the approved questionnaire into local languages (Albanian/Bosnian/Macedonian/Montenegrin/Serbian) using the system of back translation;
- Develop the sample for each economy as described above.

Survey deployment and fieldwork

- Develop a training manual for interviewers;
- Mobilise and train the interviewers;
- Deploy interviewers and conduct fieldwork;
- Ensure quality control using back-checks (either in person or by phone). At least 20% of the respondents should be checked in this way.

Data input and processing

- Carry out data entry for each question, both for economy-level data and regional aggregates;
- Produce the data tables for each question, including the regional aggregates.

Production and delivery of data tables

- The Consultant will propose a methodology for the data collection and sampling by 30 April 2024.
- Produce the data tables inclusive of all data collected in each of the economies, including regional aggregates and/or averages and calculated indices. Data shall be prepared in a format allowing statistical analysis, properly tabulated and ready to be imported in the major statistical tools (STATA and SPSS). The format must allow for the production of data analysis, additional analysis as well as graphical data presentation and should be accompanied by all appropriate documentation. Submit the data tables to the RCC Secretariat by 10 June 2024.
- Produce a separate table with data to be imported into the SecuriMeter online database and submit this data table to the RCC in excel format, according to the instructions provided by the RCC Secretariat, no later than 10 June 2024.
- Prepare a methodological report and send it to RCC by 10 June 2024.
- RCC reserves the right to contact consultants beyond this date in case of any additional questions and/or clarifications.
- The consultants in charge of LOT 1 will remain available to the selected consultants of LOT 2 for any questions regarding collected data until the finalisation of the report (31 August 2024).

The Consultant will appoint a Team Leader to liaise directly with the RCC Secretariat.

The implementation of the work outlined in these Terms of Reference shall commence at the end of April 2024 and will end on 10 June 2024. All draft deliverables outlined above should be submitted to the RCC in the appropriate format by 10 June 2024. The final deliverables, prepared according to RCC’s inputs, will be delivered within 5 calendar days following RCC’s comments.

III PROFILE AND COMPETENCIES

For this contract, the Consultant is expected to put together the necessary team of experts to conduct the work. The Consultant will decide on the adequate team’s composition and structure, bearing in mind that the minimum team composition will need to include the Team Leader and two Key Experts – one per Component of work. The rest of the team should be described in the Technical Offer as well. The Technical Offer should also indicate the level of effort planned per each member of the team.

The Team Leader and the Key Experts should meet the following requirements:

- Displays cultural, gender, religion, race, nationality and age sensitivity and adaptability.

IV QUALITY CONTROL

The Consultant should ensure internal quality control during the implementing and reporting phase of the assignment. The quality control should ensure that the draft reports comply with the above requirements and meet adequate quality standards before sending them to stakeholders for comments. The quality control should ensure consistency and coherence between findings, conclusions and recommendations. It should also ensure that the findings reported are duly substantiated and that conclusions are supported by relevant judgment criteria.

Quality Control by the Regional Cooperation Council

Each Consultant's outputs shall undergo external review. The first draft shall be reviewed in parallel by all relevant stakeholders and the Regional Cooperation Council.

Taking account of the comments made by different stakeholders and how the experts have handled these comments the Regional Cooperation Council will review the final (second) draft. The approved final report will be subject to a quality assessment by the Political Department of the Regional Cooperation Council, upon whose endorsement each report would be distributed and made public.

The RCC reserves the right to conduct close monitoring of the data collection process, including on-the-spot verification without any prior notification to the Consultant.

LOT 2: SecuriMeter - Security public opinion survey in the Western Balkans - 2024, data analysis, findings, conclusions and recommendations

Duration: 01 July 2024 -31 August 2024

Price ceiling: Up to EUR 20,000 – Bids indicating a price above this threshold shall not be considered

I BACKGROUND

Purpose

The goal of LOT 2 - Data Analysis is to examine the data gathered in LOT 1 to produce meaningful, actionable insights that can shape policies, improve public understanding, and influence security-related decision-making in the Western Balkans. Alongside conducting primary data analysis and writing narrative part of the report, the consultant will be provided with a preliminary empirical analysis from the RCC highlighting important findings. It is expected that the consultant will expand on these findings, offering detailed interpretations. Additionally, the consultant should conduct further qualitative research to enrich the analysis, incorporating a literature review to contextualise the findings. The consultant is also tasked with integrating relevant reports from international organisations, aiming for a well-rounded and informed perspective on the region's security dynamics. This approach not only seeks to interpret the raw data but also to embed it within a larger context, using diverse sources to formulate conclusions and recommendations.

For this purpose, a consultancy or a consulting consortium (hereinafter: the Consultant) will be engaged to support the analysis and data processing of the survey on behalf of the Regional Cooperation Council.

Background Information

Since 2021, RCC has been engaged in measuring the attitudes, experiences and perceptions of the general public in the Western Balkans concerning the security situation. Continuation of the Public Opinion Survey on security issues remains one of the key priorities, which would help understand citizens' perceptions along the lines of the main security challenges, and at the same time help practitioners and governments to improve their course of action.

The previous three editions of the SecuriMeter, issued respectively in 2021, 2022, and 2023, have been received with great interest. They are complementary to the data collected by the RCC's Balkan Barometer, as well as the data collected by public administrations and regional and international partners. According to numerous feedback, citation, and the overall usage of data sets, both governments and the NGO sector have shown a great need for such a project.

The 2024 iteration seeks to deepen the understanding of both traditional and non-traditional security challenges, emphasizing human security and socioeconomic factors that influence perceptions of safety and security.

II DESCRIPTION OF RESPONSIBILITIES

Objectives and Scope of the Assignment

Objectives and scope of the Assignment need to ensure that LOT 2 not only delivers a robust analysis of the survey data but also situates the findings within a larger socio-political and academic context, ultimately contributing to the development of informed public in the Western Balkans.

The Consultant is expected to:

- Analyse all findings per components/categories;
- Conduct an examination of the data collected in LOT 1, aiming to uncover insights that can inform security policies, enhance public awareness, and guide strategic decisions in the Western Balkans;
- Provide an elaboration of preliminary empirical findings that will be supplied by the RCC, delivering detailed interpretation and contextualisation of key data points;
- Supplement the data analysis with additional qualitative research, an understanding of the security landscape must be deepened through a literature review;
- Compare it with previous findings and highlight certain trends that should be further elaborated;
- Translate the analytical findings into actionable recommendations tailored to address the identified security concerns;
- Based on analysis and comparisons, come up with a set of conclusions that bring forward all the main concerns and the main security challenges;
- Conduct additional research to explore themes that emerge from the data;
- Produce a comprehensive analytical report that synthesizes the data analysis, research findings, literature review, and policy recommendations, presenting a clear, coherent narrative that is accessible to a broad audience, including policymakers, security practitioners, academics, and the general public.

Specific Tasks

Under this Component, it is envisioned that the Consultant shall carry out the following tasks:

Conduct preparatory work

- Familiarise itself with the RCC, previous SecuriMeter editions, SWP 2023-2025, SEE2030 Strategy, and CRM 2021-2024;
- Participate in a kick-off meeting and ongoing consultations with the RCC Secretariat. This meeting will be held in the first week upon signature of the contract;
- Agree with the RCC Secretariat on any outstanding issues and/or possible modifications to the scope of work;
- Data Analysis - Draft the analytical report based on findings of the SecuriMeter 2024 whenever relevant, findings should also be analysed in the context of the EU Barometers related to security perceptions;
- The Consultant will also propose the text for infographics, highlighting the most outstanding findings at the regional and level of each Western Balkan economy in a separate Word document;
- SecuriMeter 2024 edition will include, but not be limited to introduction and main findings, detailed overview of responses to each question with the already prepared graphic representation and in-depth commentary, conclusions and recommendations, including the already prepared methodological notes and technical specifications;
- RCC reserves the right to contact consultants beyond the end date in case of any additional questions and/or clarifications;
- The Consultant is expected to participate in the public presentation of the report's findings (during 9th Regional Security Coordination Conference in mid Oct-Nov 2024 – TBD);
- NB: Proofreading and editing of the report should be done by a native English speaker.

Delivery of the reports

- The Consultant will receive the processed data no later than 30 June 2024;
- The first draft of the report should be submitted to the RCC in writing in MS Word format by 30 July 2024;
- The final report will be delivered within 15 calendar days following RCC's comments, but not later than 31 August 2024. The design of the report will not be subject of this contract since it will be done by RCC, according to RCC graphic design standards.

The implementation of the contract is envisioned to commence on 10 June 2024 and end on 31 August 2024. (The Consultant should be available for the possible RCC queries during the preliminary empirical analysis in June 2024, but the Consultant writing phase will start on 01 July 2024).

III PROFILE AND COMPETENCIES

For the purpose of this contract, the Consultant is expected to put together the necessary team of experts to conduct the work. The Consultant will decide on the adequate team composition and structure, bearing in mind that the minimum team composition will need to include the Team Leader and two Key Experts – one per each Component of work. The rest of the team should be described in the Technical Offer as well. The Technical Offer should also indicate the level of effort planned per each member of the team.
