Brief overview of the situation

In general terms: remarkable progress in this area, however, we have to distinguish between the situation in preschool and primary education and secondary and tertiary education (post-compulsory studies).

Preschool and primary education

-Primary education:
  - almost total normalization in terms of enrollment rates: 96.7% in 2007
  - improvement in data such as: age appropriate class // improvement of social interaction in the classroom// relationships with other classmates and teachers, etc.
  - Some problems persist, such as:
    - absenteeism (almost 1/4 niños long term absenteeism: 3 months or more).
    - early school drop-out
Roma young Population is, in general terms, less educated than the general population of the same age:

-64.4% of young Roma have not obtained the certificate of completion of ESO- Obligatory secondary education- (ie they have not even completed compulsory education), compared with 13.3% of the general population: 51.1% difference in the rates of school failure.

Compared by gender, no significant differences among the Roma (in the general population the rate is higher in the case of boys)

-Maximum level of studies achieved, young Roma: los jóvenes gitanos de 16 a 19:

-62,7 % máx. primary education

-24,8 % Compulsory secondary education

-7,4 % non compulsory secondary (bachillerato or higher secondary education and secondary vocational education)

-20-24:

-> differences with the general population

-8,9 % and 2,2 % have finished finalised bachillerato (higher secondary education) non compulsory or secondary vocational education or tertiary studies, respectively.

-60,4 % only primary education
SECONDARY EDUCATION (II)

- ni-nis (young people who are not in education, employment or training –NEET-) : 15-19 years → 43.3 % (12.8% general population)

- Enrollment rates: very similar at 12 years old, they descend 30 points at 15 years old

- Early school drop-out:

  - When: it happens at 15-16.
  - The causes: to be fed up of studying or not liking what they were studying (30.9%) or family reasons (29.5%). In the latter, there’s a strong gender component, because 42.7% Roma girls point out family reasons, compared to 14.9% of Roma boys, who mainly speak about looking for a job (21.75%)

- Other information: higher levels of satisfaction with the educational system; no perception of discrimination by classmates and teachers, etc.

DISCRIMINATION

- A Discrimination map (Ministry of Health, Social Services and Equality and CIS) is in an advanced stage of development.

  - This tool will measure in an actual and effectively way the causes of discrimination in our area. The overall objective of the map is to identify the social and potential victims of discrimination perceptions, discriminatory practices and key evidence of discrimination in Spain, to allow a better design of anti-discrimination policies.

- Spain joined the Council of Europe DOSTA! Campaign on April 2013, publishing its tool kit adapted to the Spanish context.

- The DG for Equal Opportunities launched in 2013 the campaign Yo soy tu, to promote the respect to diversity, including the Roma.
