Local advocacy
What we have noticed?

- Roma communities do not have full access to civil registration.
  - Situation unknown to service providers (needs and reality)
  - Procedures are complex and difficult to follow
  - The Roma people face difficulties in the written language
  - Lack of clear actions that provide services suited to the needs of the communities
  - Absence of funds in implementing effective measures in registering Roma people

- Lack of coordination and information sharing at central, local & regional level (information database on civil registration)

- Low awareness of the public administration, justice and public order bodies, toward standards of Human Rights, especially toward policies and laws for the Human Rights and protection of minorities
Recommendations

- Collection and elaboration of data that allows to focus the interventions and adaption of the Civil registration procedures. The data can provide monitoring floor and have to be accessible to the public. It can lead to improvements on the procedures of civil registration for specific cases (e.g. registration of Roma children born abroad).

- Development of a methodology that ensures exact and reliable information, involving Roma NGOs or Individuals who can contribute to this issue.

- The local government units must foresee the necessary finances for the implementation of measures that facilitate the civil registration of Roma people, focusing on the specific needs of each community.
Recommendations

- Rising awareness and capacities of the civil servants working with Roma, along with rising awareness in the public administration, and law enforcement entities.

- Inclusion of Roma in providing field information at local level.

- Encouraging antidiscrimination measures at large scale, and creation of sympathy in delivering civil services to marginalized groups, in this case to Roma people.
